That these dead
shall not have died
in vain

Suffer the little children

Will America be safe in another war? What do you think? The great productive might of America has been a crushing weight in the scales of two world wars. Isn't it likely that an enemy would first strike at America if there is another war?

No hiding place

There are no longer any hiding places in the world. There are no cities safe from the searching fingers of war. If there are wars in the future they will be total wars — and death and destruction will rain from the skies on all of us.

What then must we do ?

There is no easy road

The road to peace is a long hard road.

To win peace we must organize ourselves – somehow.

We must get the world together – as best we can.

We must make a start.

We must begin to move toward organization for peace.

There is no easy road but there is no other way

America is willing

America, which twice in a quarter century has seen hundreds of thousands of her sons and fathers and brothers killed and maimed, has made up her mind. America is ready to go to work and organize—all the polls show it.

7 out of 10 Americans say they are ready to join an international organization to maintain world peace.

A beginning has been

At Dumbarton Oaks

the United States, Great Britain, Russia and China agreed on proposals for a world organization. They agreed that an international organization should be formed. They suggested that it be called The United Nations. They suggested that it should have these purposes—

1 — Maintain peace and security for all nations

2 — Bring about peaceful settlement of disputes

3 — Work for the economic and social betterment of all peoples of the world

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT said:

". . . there is going to be held in San Francisco a meeting of all Unit Nations of the world, on the 25th of April, next month. There, all hope, and confidently expect, to execute a definite charter of orga zation upon which the peace of the world will be preserved and t forces of aggression permanently outlawed.

made --

At San Francisco, April 25, 1945

where the nations of the world will seek to advance still further along the road to world organization and world peace. The general proposals to be considered are--

An Assembly of all nations to make policies for the United Nations.

A Security Council of 11 members charged with the maintenance of peace.

An Economic and Social Council to promote the general welfare of the people of the nations.

A World Court before which legal disputes between nations can be settled.

"This time we are not making the mistake of waiting until the end of the war to set up the machinery of peace. This time, as we fight together to win the war finally, we work together to keep it from happening again." (Report to Congress March 2, 1945 after Crimea Conference).

From here on it's up to you Mr. and Mrs. America

Perhaps the San Francisco Conference will have begun by the time you read this.

No matter, you can still be at San Francisco by making your voice heard there.

You can still help shape a better world.

As a matter of fact even after the Conference is over you can play a part in the shaping of a new world.

Remember the San Francisco Conference is only a start.

San Francisco is not the end of the road . . . it is the beginning

Here's what you can do

Write NOW to any of the United States delegates at the San Francisco Conference you want to influence.

They want your help. They want to know what the people of America think. Speak your mind frankly.

Say something like this – if this is what you believe:

"A beginning has been made. Let us find ways to go forward. Let us organize with the other nations of the world for world peace."

Say in substance this – if this is what you believe:

"There must be no more wars. There must be better ways – let us find them."

If you have never before written to any of the men and women who represent you in our great democracy make this your first message!

Say what you believe

This is your world – make it your peace.

Speak and write in your own words what you yourself think.

We in America believe that what we can all agree to is very likely to be sound and right.

Let us therefore speak our minds

— in a few words or many

— in a letter or on a postal

— on notepaper or on wrapping paper

— from farm, city, town, village, shop, factory, school, or wherever we may be — young as well as old, because the future belongs to all of us.

Here are the men who are acting for you at the San Francisco Conference

Hon. Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., Chairman

Hon. Cordell Hull

Senator Tom Connally

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg

Congressman Sol Bloom

Congressman Charles A. Eaton

Dean Virginia C. Gildersleeve
